'Swami' forecasts 1977 for Rotarians

Economist sees muddled Ag prospects

BELLE GLADE—A muddled but slightly brighter outlook for 1977 was the prediction Tuesday for local Rotarians when a "Swami" brought out his crystal ball of figures for the economic forecast for local farmers. Slightly lower unemployment, lower interest rates, better sugar prices and vegetable and beef prices which were confused and could go either way was the yearly forecast by University of Florida Agricultural Economist Charles Covey when he spoke to the local Rotary Club. Covey's clearest projection was for a better unemployment figure but said the United States is going to have to learn to live with 7 percent unemployment figures, compared to the current 7.9 percent and the "normal" 4.5 percent.

The economist gave several reasons for the continued higher unemployment rate than what the country is used to, including the fact that more women are working who take more time between jobs, the "bulge" caused by the post-war baby boom, increased unemployment benefits which make it more attractive for many people to stay on unemployment rolls than find a job and the elimination of the draft.

The worst part about the continued unemployment, Covey said, is that it provides so much ammunition for politicians.

Covey noted that interest rates have been steadily declining since 1975 and predicted that while money won't be a lot cheaper in 1977, it won't be much higher either if someone wants to put off a project until the end of the year.

For the sugar growing members of the Rotary, Covey said prices for raw sugar have remained higher in January than predicted by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, in the face of an anticipated 4.2 million ton surplus in world production, for four reasons.

He said the surplus was offset by reports of sales of large quantities of Philippine sugar to the USSR and the People's Republic of China; the removal of Cuba from the world sugar market, the loss from the Florida freeze last month and an indicated 7 percent reduction in 1977-78 sugar beet acreage in the United States.

But Covey said those four factors could be offset by three others which could be bad news for local growers.

He cited the fact that corn sweeteners, which claimed only 7 percent of the U.S. market in 1960, now make up 19 percent of the total sales while sugar has slipped from 88 to 76 percent.

Covey also pointed out the possible normalization of relations between Cuba and the United States which could throw Cuban sugar back onto the market, saying this is another unsettling point when someone is trying to predict sugar prices.

"I would hope," he said, "that the President will not make any political concessions to a Communist country at the expense of Florida farmers."

After his talk, Covey said still another thing muddying up prediction waters is what the outcome of U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland's task force on sugar and sweetener policy would be and what impact the findings may have.

Besides affecting the future of sugar, Covey said the hard 1977 winter is also affecting vegetable and beef prospects and said prices on both could go either way.

He did say, however, he thought it would be some time before the price on feeder cattle produced in Florida would be on the uprise; although the lack of feed in the west could act to drive the prices up and a decision by a lot of farmers to reduce their herds at the same time would drive the prices down.

"One thing I'm afraid of," he said in discussing vegetable outlooks for the area farmers, "is that everyone might replant all their acreage at once and we'll have a glut on the market."

Covey reminded the Rotarians also that the average housewife is relying more on frozen and canned vegetables and less on fresh vegetables.

Homestead deadline is next Tuesday

BELLE GLADE—Palm Beach County Property Appraiser David L. Reid reminded all property owners this week that March 1 is the deadline for filing for the $5,000 Homestead Exemption, as well as disability, seniors, widows, disabled veterans, agricultural (greenbelt) filings and tangible personal property exemptions.

Contractor urges South Bay to drop lawsuit over sewer construction and take losses

SOUTH BAY—The possibility of the city may take its losses and drop a lawsuit against the engineers and one of the contractors responsible for the city's sewer system loomed larger than ever in a city workshop session Tuesday night.

And for the first time, City Attorney Allan Everard put a dollar figure on the suit when he estimated it could cost Robert Owen and Associates, the city's engineers during the construction, and LaGrow Irrigation Systems, Inc., the prime contractor, $100,000.

That $100,000 figure, which was immediately questioned by Robert Owen, was estimated, according to Everard, during a meeting with Robert H. Fowler, the North Palm Beach engineer who wrote the engineering report in December 1974 being used as a basis for city attorneys for the suit.

Everard and Nicholas Wellman, another attorney acting for the city in the suit with Everard, said Fowler told them that what it would cost for LaGrow and Owen to correct "deficiencies in engineering and construction."

"I don't know where you got that figure," Owen told Everard, "but I don't have a $100,000 liability operation and if you keep throwing it around without documentation, I'm going to walk out of here and go to court."

When Everard said he had heard the figure verbally from Fowler, who he said is now in Indonesia, Owen asked him if he had it in writing anywhere and demanded the documentation be produced if it exists.

The report produced by Fowler was repeatedly attacked during the meeting as including errors, some of which Michael Riley, attorney for LaGrow, said had been admitted by Fowler later.

But in the absence of South Bay Public Works Director Lomax Harrell, who was supposed to have been at the meeting, Everard and Wellman could only say the basis for their litigation was the Fowler report.

In preparation for the meeting, which was set up a month ago, Everard and Harrell were to have met so Everard could go over the suit with Harrell and explained the specific charges so Harrell could compare for the commissioners the charges and the present condition of the system.

Both Riley and Dan Jones, Owen's attorney, told the commissioners several times they don't have much chance of winning the lawsuits and Owen and Lionel LaGrow, owner of the LaGrow Irrigation, said they understood the system is now in good working order.

"I think the present commission," LaGrow said in summing up his arguments, "is going to pay and suffer for the actions of a

Train wreck kills one, hurts six

BELLE GLADE—One woman was dead and six women and children were injured Sunday in the aftermath of a train-car collision at the Florida East Coast Railroad and SR717.

Belle Glade Police Sgt. M. J. "Speedy" Spooner said it took wreckers and rescue personnel 40 minutes after the collision to remove the body of Maria Longoria, 22, Apt 96 in Osceola Center from the wreckage. The train dragged 295 feet north of the crossing on the track.

Spooner, who worked the accident along with Patrolman Michael Maushardt, said Juan Louis Longoria, 1, of 96 Osceola Center and Fanny Manriquez, 3, of 97 Osceola Center were treated and released at Glades General Hospital.

Rosa Oyarzun, 24, of 83 Osceola Center was listed in critical condition in Good Samaritan Hospital in West Palm Beach while Edgar Oyarzun, 21, and Alex Oyarzun, 4, both of 83 Osceola Center, were listed in fair condition at Good Samaritan.

The driver, Carmen Manriquez, of 97 Osceola Center, was also listed in fair condition at Good Samaritan.

Spooner said there were four witnesses to the accident who all said the track crossing signals were operating with bells sounding and lights flashing.

He said the witnesses also agreed that the engineer, David L. Lee of Fort Pierce, was moving the train at an estimated 20-25 miles per hour and that Mrs. Manriquez was traveling east at an estimated 35 miles per hour.

"It's just one of those things," Spooner said, "Mrs. Manriquez is over in the hospital now and she doesn't know why it happened. No one knows."

Spooner said he had informed Mrs. Manriquez and Rosa Oyarzun are sisters.

Tryin' it on

Janean Gilbert gets her first tryout of the chair she'll be inheriting the first of the month as she fills the shoes of outgoing Belle Glade Librarian Leslie Strickland, right. Mrs. Strickland, who has headed up the local library for the past two years is going to Key West, where she'll take over the Monroe County Library system. Miss Gilbert, a native of Mayo who received her degree in library science in 1975, has been with the local library for 16 months.

Saturday night, the annual heart Ball will get underway around 8:00 p.m. and from all indications, it will be one of the finest ever.

I'll be attending my "first ever" Heart Ball and you can bet wife Lilly and I are looking forward to it.

The hall is one of those functions that does a whole lot of good within the community from two viewpoints, heart research and providing an opportunity for people to get together and have a good time.

This week, you'll find a new addition to the Herald-Observer, a business page.

The page was the brainchild of able advertising manager Andy Campanaro and most of the copy produced for it is being done by him.

What businessmen do, who they are, and what is going on in the Glades business community because world is of vital importance to the rest of the community.

This page will be for and about the business community because of the need to know by the people of the area.

You'll also notice a "new look" for this week's paper, a different style to type on the news and people pages.

As we move toward "departmentalization" of the news, sports, people, and business pages, we hope the two new typewriters will serve to help identify what type of story is carried under the headline.

Hard news, sports, business, etc. will be carried with the heavier typeface while "people news" and society will be carried under the lighter style.

What we are attempting to do is have our own sports, news, and society sections of the paper and to do this, we have to install some "hard and fast" deadlines.

The society and people news absolute deadline is now Tuesday noon and the sports Monday at 5:00 p.m. Business news is due Friday and the classified copy page deadline is Monday at 5:00 p.m.

All other news now carries a Tuesday at 5:00 p.m. deadline. If we can hold to these deadlines, we can have our various sections and a better looking newspaper that will at the same time be a more readable one.

We've got a lot of other "goodies" in the works and they will be announced later.

But you can bet they are aimed, each and every one, at bringing you the best weekly newspaper we can possibly produce.

Engineers' Week

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Palm Beach Chapter of the Florida Engineering Society is celebrating Engineers Week with a banquet on Friday night. The event is aimed, each and every one, at bringing you the best weekly newspaper we can possibly produce.

Since the time of our first engineer, President George Washington, members of the engineering profession have been lessers in making America the world's most technologically-advanced country.

As an engineer myself, I recognize both the enormous progress made, and the challenges yet to come. Perhaps the greatest of these challenges, as we enter our third century as a nation, is the husbanding of our natural resources.

I am confident that the engineering profession will be able to come up with energy-thrifty designs for buildings, homes, automobiles, engines, appliances and a hundred other things.

And already the engineers of America are leading the way toward more effective utilization of the almost limitless energy locked in wind, water, and the sun's rays.

It is thus particularly appropriate that you have chosen "Key to the Future...Engineering" as the theme for National Engineers Week. The engineers of America carry with them my best wishes as they work toward that future.

The Heart Ball has evrything

The people in the Glades are going to have a good chance to have a good time Saturday night and feel good about it when it's all over.

The Glades Heart Ball is one of the most prestigious social events every year in the Belle Glade area and it serves one of the best causes by raising money to help fund research of heart disease, not to mention to help treat heart disease in Palm Beach County generally and in the Glades specifically.

Among other benefits the Glades has received over the last several years from the Palm Beach County Heart Association are some electronic equipment bought for Glades General Hospital and the regular cardiac screening clinic operated there free of charge for any resident of the Glades.

And if there's anyone in the Glades who have doubts about what's been done, all they have to do is talk to Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie McClelland up in Canal Point.

The McClellands will once again be the King and Queen of Hearts and for good reason. They've both undergone open heart surgery and they're both living normal lives now, including an active support of the Heart Fund drive.

Mrs. Lynette Thompson and her crew of ladies have done a tremendous job this year in preparing for the ball and Neal Smith's Orchestra is known to be popular.

That's reason enough to get out to the dance Saturday night at the Elks Club but knowing the proceeds are going to help people like the McClellands is an even greater incentive.

And when Heart Sunday rolls around the next day, people who are called on at their homes for donations would do well to remember the reason February is Heart Month and that their donations could come back to them in improved aid should they, themselves, ever suffer a heart attack.

Have a heart.

Voice from the Wilderness

Smile and the world smiles with you

By Andy Campanaro

While sliding down the razor blade of life, most of us rarely get a chance to reflect on what we're doing, where we're going, and why we should feel anything at all.

After all, we are awfully busy, aren't we? Busy thinking about ourselves, our lover, our appearance, our precious little vanities.

I grew up within the blue line of the Adirondack Mountains, where people basically work 20 weeks a year and, thanks to the fructiousness of their city cousins, rest on their laurels, hunting rifles and fishing poles the rest of the time.

Of course, there are a lot more churches filled with a lot more people on Sunday here, too, and there is a lot more fish consumed than in the mountains, but unless you've wandered around the face of the globe a little bit in the last 10 years, maybe you don't know why you really should be thankful to live in Belle Glade.

I did some wandering after I got out of the university. I went back to the mountains and things haven't changed. There are no job openings in the Adirondacks. To do decently in any part of the writing field, you'd have to work in one of those ugly, people-hating, city environments or take a job as a "cow-copy" editor on a weak weekly.

Then I tried a stint as advertising copywriter in the mid-west and, after counting two days of partial sunshine in two months, came back south.

I wrote a song about coming back home and, if God wants me here next Thanksgiving, I'll print it then, but right now, I'd just like to say this:

Let's take a little time out today and look around us. It most likely will be a sunny day with fresh breezes blowing the wind invigorating air against your cheeks and nostrils. It most likely will be a day you can get out the old cane pole, bicycles, or camping gear and drive down an old dusty road and do some easy living.

Of course, we'll be eating Okeechobee catfish or good freshly slaughtered pork or beef barbeque and we'll have the whole day just to laze around, because we know how to live.

Let's think a bit about our fellows up north who started off this day shoveling 40 pounds of snow off their front walks.

Do Unto Others As You Would Have Others Do Unto You."

I'll prob'ly get maimed for this, but it's gonna be worth it anyway.

A group us was headin' for a meeting last week at the University of South Florida and while Biff and I had been to Tampa before, neither one of us had the foggiest idea about where the big school was. Found out, by the way - it's the second largest university in the state higher education system, according to who's giving the figures).

So here we are, swilling coffee and propping our eyelids open with matchsticks and coughpicks when all of a sudden the Cracker Crumb gets a brainstorm, twists around in the seat and says to Jackie:

"Jackie," sez I, "you used to go to USF, didn't you?" and when she said she had, it was, "Hot dog, got ourselves a guide!"

Well, she did let us know SR60's the best way to get to Smogville and from there on, it was, "Go straight," till we durn near wound up in Tampa Bay.

That's a beautiful sight, by the way, what with the sun fighting its way through a couple of miles of cigar and garbage smoke glistening weakly off water you could walk on.

At any rate, that's about the time we decided it might be best to get some other kind of directions than a mumbled "Go straight." Besides, we were all awake by then and we finally did get to the campus.

Had a good ole time kiddin' our guide about her directions but that was before I remembered what happened to me the first time I was down town with some buddies in Germany.

Before going down, the guys made sure I knew "Wo ist der Bahnhof" means "Where is the train station," and that from the train station, I could get back to the rear seat.

Knowing I got separated from the guys but that didn't bother me a bit because I marched right up to the first guy I saw and asked where the train station was!

He told me.

And I didn't understand a word he said.

Because no one had told me how a German says "right", "left", or even "Go straight." Makes my feel almost as foolish as parking your car and leaving the lights on all day while you're telling other newspaper types how to convert from eight to six columns; right, Sonny?

dressed with three sets of clothes and wraps, and who may be suffered through a power "brownout" if their local electric company can't handle the at-home overload, and mainly, just can't even see the sun.

Let's think about all the people in the Glades society that are paid to do just one thing - protect us: the policeman, the environmental services man, planners, researchers, doctors, nurses, and all the other people too multitudinous to name.

All in all, we do have a lot to be thankful for, and we can individually give vent to those by following a regulation laid down by every major religion in the world (Taoism, Buddhism, Confucianism, Christianity, Judaism and Islam, to name a few), namely:

"Do Unto Others As You Would Have Others Do Unto You."

Special Olympics set with over 200 entered

A total of 229 exceptional students are ready to participate in the Palm Beach County Special Olympics at John I. Leonard on Mar. 12, largely due to the efforts of a dozen doctors and a nurse who have completed their physical examinations.

Nancy Buchanan, counselor at Rosenwald Elementary School, said the physicians donated their own time while they were doing the physicals from Jan. 24 through Feb. 4 for the exceptional students at 11 Glades schools.

The special olympics are designed for children with handicaps and winners at the county level will go ahead to the state competition. But the physical exams were necessary to be sure the children, taken from the third through 12th grades, are capable of participating. Mrs. Buchanan said several cases of heart murmur were discovered and the parents notified.

Olympic events include the 50-yard sprint, the 220 and 440 yard relay events, the standing and running long jumps, pole vaulting, softball throw and specialty events like wheelchair racing.

Taking time to examine the students from the Belle Glade area were Doctors Ahmad Barabash, Jorge Fuxa, Luis Guerrero, Martin Jacobson of the Palis Beach County Health Department, Nathan Kahn of Community Mental Health Center, Jaime Motta and Martha Valentin.

In Pahokee, Doctors F. C. Johnson, Caesar Orduna and G. B. Walker, along with Debbie Seaborn, R. N. of the Health Department

School Nurse, worked on the program. The last two physicians were Doctors William Gist of Canal point and Adalberto Diaz of Clewiston.

Schools which are taking part in the Special Olympics include Belle Glade Elementary, Glades Central High School, Gladesview, Gove, Lake Shore, Canal Point, Rosenwald and South Bay Elementary Schools, Lake Shore And East Lake Middle Schools and Pahokee High.

Club tours Indiantown garden

BELLE GLADE—Members of the Belle Glade Garden Club held their February meeting recently as the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Stewart Matthews in Indiantown with the growth of cabbage palms, oaks, palmettos, fruit trees, some pasture, fern and other native plants providing a typical South Florida setting.

Dr. and Mrs. Matthews guided the club members through their nursery of numerous plants. Some of the species were natural growth and some were grown from seed and cuttings.

In his travels all over the world, Dr. Stewart had returned with and transplanted various trees.

shrubbery and smaller plants from such countries as New Zealand, Australia, Haiti, South Africa, Brazil, Cambodia and many other countries.

In his love of plants in their natural setting, he hasn't deviated from the natural look and habits of plants from South Florida.

The garden club members were led around the lake which was man made but significant in its natural setting. In this area are deer tracks in the sand and bobcats have been seen sunning on the banks of the lake.

The fauna and flora in their habitat complete the setting of a South Florida paradise.

Mrs. Matthews invited the group into her rustic home for a "pet luck" luncheon which was enjoyed overlooking the gardens the club members had been guided through.

The recent freeze had killed some and damaged many of the plants and trees but there was still much growth and blooms in various areas to enjoy and the club members were given many plants to bring home and share some of the Matthews' estate.

The Camper's Pledge

The Antipollution boys are breathing down our necks. They want us to quit dumping and they will have their way.

And now it's imperative, we must clean up all our mess. Let's get together for our beautiful U.S.A.

We'll put all our garbage right in the pot.

THANKS TO OUR MANY FRIENDS AND NEIGHBORS

"It isn't the things that we get, my friend, and it isn't how much we know, it's the will to serve, it's the hand we lend, it's the light which our lanterns throw."

May God's Richest blessings be upon the many friends and neighbors in the nearby communities, South Bay, Belle Glade, Pahokee and other surrounding areas, who so freely gave their service and support during our hour of sorrow.

We must say that our hearts have certainly been comforted by the many kind words of concern and the prayers uttered for us. We cannot find words to express our sincere gratitude and thanks to each of you for whatever you did for us. We could dress up how we feel with many elaborate words, but none of them would truly express how we feel within. The Warmth of love and friendship is totally unmeasurable.

Our many thanks and may God bless each of you.

The Hill and Bailey Family

Carry our own ash trays and also doggie bags. 'Cause if we don't, our Country will all go to rot. And we must never throw away our old, smoked out fags.

But every year the land about settles just an inch. If they'd let us campers spread out all our mess. In forty years the sawgrass wouldn't be a cinch. And farms would still be here, now that's my guess.

Seven are arrested

Drugs are seized in raid

BELLE GLADE—Seven arrests and a quantity of drugs were netted over the last week as the result of a continuing drug investigation by the Belle Glade Police Department headed by Chief of Detectives James Eberle.

Police raided the Little Harlem Bar at 507 S.W. Ave. B Place and the home of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Daniels at 656 S.W. Eighth St. last Wednesday night and arrested five persons on a variety of drug charges.

Since then, one more has surrendered and another was picked up at his home by Palm Beach County Sheriff's deputies.

Officers involved in the raids said they confiscated 32 decks of heroin and cocaine, along with several bags of cigarettes of marijuana and other contraband during the raid on the Little Harlem.

But while they arrested Irene Daniels, 55, on a capias, they failed to find any contraband at the Daniels' residence, although they said they found a quantity of money estimated to be at least $40,000, "and that's conservative," according to several officers.

Arrested during the night's activities were:

Joe Nathan Coleman, 21, of 648 S.W. Ave. A for possession and sales of cocaine. He was placed under $10,000 bond.

Mrs. Daniels, 55, of 624 S.W. Eighth St. for sale and possession of heroin. She was bonded out on $30,000 bail before the police completed processing her.

Jimmy Lee Brown, 24, of 609 S.W. Seventh St. for sale and possession of heroin. Brown bonded out under $30,000 bond.

James Otis Benjamin, 27, of 516 S.W. Ave. E for sale and possession of cocaine. He was later bailed out under $10,000 bond.

Rainer Mac McCloud, 21, of 656 S.W. C Place for sale and possession of heroin and sale and possession of cocaine. She was placed under $30,000 bond.

Since then, Rita Brown, 25, address unknown, turned herself in at court in West Palm Beach. Eberle said the judge released her on her own recognizance rather than the $30,000 bond which had been suggested.

David Charles Woodson, age and address unknown, was also later picked up at his home by sheriff's deputies and placed under $10,000 bond.

Officers involved in making the arrests included Eberle, Detective Curtis Stambaugh, Officer Ray Hamilton, Cliff Demerett of the Florida Beverage Agency, Sgt. Lee Kielman, ID Officer Gary Burroughs, Patrolman Jerry Portney, Sgt. Lynn Lowry, Sgt. Larry Thompson, Patrolman Leroy Carigan, Detective Tim Coderman and Auxiliary Police Capt. Michael Zumpf.

GOVERNOR'S HIGHWAY SAFETY COMMISSION
Florida Department of Administration

Sugar task force is good say officials

BELLE GLADE-Local sugar industry leaders say they still have no idea of the contents of an interim report made in mid-February but they're pleased at the creation of a task force set up by the Secretary of Agriculture to study sugar and sweetener policy. The task force was set up a month ago by Secretary Bob Bergland to advise how the U.S. Department of Agriculture can help financially hard-pressed sugarcane and sugar beet growers and the artificial sweetener industry.

Robert E. Stansberry, Jr., of the USDA Soil Conservation and Stabilization Service was appointed to head up the task force. Stansberry told The Belle Glade Herald Tuesday he couldn't comment on it but the group has delivered its interim report to the Secretary on time and will make final report on March 1.

"You know how a bureaucracy works," Stansberry said. "They move in fits and starts but we should be able to make the reports public in about 30 days."

George Wedgworth, president of the Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative of Florida, Inc., said Stansberry, "is very competent and highly qualified to put the task force together."

"We in the industry," Wedgworth went on, "aren't privy to what goes on in the Department and that's proper, but we would expect that some time in March, Secretary Bergland would comment on what the policy might be."

"We don't know if the policy might be," he said, "but we are impressed with the speed he's moving on the problem and the priority he's giving. We're pleased so far."

U.S. Sugar Corp. President John Boy said he had no idea which direction the task force's recommendations would take but there are presumably be two areas, short range and long range with the long range probably taking the form of legislation.

"I would hope the legislation would cover the entire sweetener industry," Boy said, "including the corn sweeteners. If it covers only sugar, it would merely provide an umbrella of protection for the corn sweeteners and that wouldn't be desirable."

The task force is expected to identify and evaluate options available on the domestic and international sugar and sweetener situation and make recommendations for possible administrative actions or legislative proposals.

The price of sugar in the United States is now regulated by Presidential proclamation in the wake of the death of the Sugar Act, which expired in 1974.

Since that time, the domestic and world and prices of sugar has fluctuated widely, with the domestic price skyrocketing to 64.5 cents a pound for raw sugar on Nov. 20, 1974 and dropping to a low of 8.9 cents last September. It was 11.01 cents a pound as of last Friday.

During that same time, the world price dropped to as low as 7.9 cents a pound and as of Friday, it was hovering at 11.5 cents a pound.

The purpose of the old Sugar Act was to stabilize sugar prices and insure domestic growers a market as long as they participated in the regulation of both price and labor standards set by the USDA and the U.S. Department of Labor.

One possible form of regulation that has been mentioned, although it wasn't referred to by Stansberry or Wedgworth, is the setting up of a floor and ceiling price for domestic and imported sugar.

Emergency food stamps are cut

BELLE GLADE-For the first time since frost and ice rimmed Glades fields for six consecutive days between Jan. 17 and 22, things began looking up this week for farm workers to the point emergency food stamps were cut off Monday.

Florida Governor Reubin Askew announced the cutoff of the emergency stamp program Monday and Mrs. Betty Sturgess, coordinator for the program in the Glades, said Tuesday things were back to normal that morning.

Mrs. Sturgess said 1,600 recipients of the emergency zero-pay stamp program had been certified although she had no idea of how many of those recipients were allowed on some form of food stamp program before the freeze.

Florida State Employment Services' Belle Glade manager Joseph Occhipinti said the job outlook for farm workers in the Glades is also brighter this week, with orders coming in from area farmers and heavier hiring going on at his office and at the labor loading ramp.

"Right at this time," Occhipinti said, "we have quite a few jobs available and more people are working more days. He said jobs were available to harvest leafy vegetables, in planting sugarcane and harvesting sugarcane, although domestic workers still weren't accepting cane cutting jobs."

William Butler, heading up the emergency relief funds being distributed at the National Guard Armory, said however, Askew's food stamp action hadn't affected his program and he was still distributing checks.

Butler said he didn't know how many checks were being handed out but a total of 4,800 farm workers have applied.

"I don't have any way of knowing how many of that 4,800 were qualified, however," he said, "without conducting a count."

The food stamp cut here was only a part of the cut on emergency programs in six counties, including Dade, Okeechobee, Broward, Collier and Lee and Palm Beach.

"The one thing that bothers me," Occhipinti said, "is that with all the talk going around about fraud and ripoffs, a lot of people will stereotype migrant workers as freeloaders and they're not."

"Relatively speaking," he said, "only a few made welfare claims. On the most part they're good, hard-working people and they shouldn't be stereotyped."

former commission, which that one sewer line is "running uphill" and said Fowler said as much in a commission probably made in a later letter which he presented to the commission. He said Fowler had simply made a mistake.

On another matter, Everard asked Owen about the operating manuals Owen was supposed to deliver for the operation of the sewer treatment plant.

Owen said his firm had been halfway through preparing the manuals when he had found by reading the newspaper the city was suing him and he stopped the work.

Should the commission decide to drop the charges, and the matter may be on the agenda of the Monday night regular meeting, Everard said he doesn't know for sure what the city will have to pay in legal fees.

Before the meeting, Mayor Don Tanner and City Finance Director A.R. Grigsby went over a bill presented by Everard in the amount of more than $5,000 the city is already obligated to pay.

But the legal fees would be only part of the cost the city would have to bear should they decide to drop the suit now. Owen said the city still owes his firm $5,000 plus interest and legal fees but that would still be due should the city go ahead with the suit and lose.

LaGrow said that if the city drops the suit now, he would consider the matter closed.

"I've been hurt personally and financially by this," he said, "but I've never sued anyone before and I don't think I'll start now."

Plant charges tabled; information sought

PAHOKEE-A request for the approval of changes made in the waste-treatment plant rehabilitation project was tabled by the city council until further information is provided.

According to Russell and Axon Engineer James Sloane, the changes will cost $27,070 and involve the relocation and modifications of the vehicle storage building.

At the meeting, the spending, Sloane said the alterations will change the utility of the building. "Initially, it was a cover to protect equipment," Sloan said. Director of Utilities Bill Cross told the council that "eventually I would use to turn it into a shop where I could repair machinery."

To comply with the desire for more information, Sloane said he would request a detailed breakdown from Wydell Associates.

The council voted at this time to have the large water tank painted royal blue on the bottom. The top will be white, on the recommendation of Wydell. Councilman Noma Norman was the lone dissenter, preferring green over blue because "green will blend in with the surroundings better than blue."

Illegal taxis hurting legal Pahokee cabbies

PAHOKEE-Taxi drivers without licenses or permits was a subject of attention at Tuesday night's City Council meeting.

Mrs. Alice Williams of the Tighen Up Taxi brought her complaint to the council because "they're hurting our business."

"Why should we pay the city for a license when others are operating with no city insurance or license," Mrs. Williams asked. She noted the expenses involved in operating a legal taxi service, which include $1,300 to $1,700 a year per vehicle for insurance and the cost of a license.

Sergeant Ulysses Kerr of the Pahokee Police Department said "We want to catch them but there's nothing we can do about it. They say that if you can put someone in the cars with marked money or get two or three drivers to say they have seen people paying (for the illegal service), we can do something about it."

Mrs. Williams cited several examples of herself being ticketed or warned by the police. "They've given our taxis tickets," she said. Sgt. Kerr responded to her statements by saying, "I don't think I've ever given a ticket to a taxi...I give taxis more breaks than anybody else in town. I realize they're trying to make a living."

Deadline for exemptions is March 1

David L. Reid, Palm Beach County Property Appraiser, wishes to remind all property owners of the county that March 1 is the deadline for filing the $5,000 homestead exemption, as well as disability, senior's, widow's, disabled, veteran's, agricultural (greenbelt) filings and tangible personal property exemptions.

Mr. Reid hopes that all property owners will file early to avoid any last minute long lines.

Glades Correctional inmate escapes

BELLE GLADE-A Glades Correctional Institution inmate serving a total of 20 years in prison walked off his job at the prison slaughterhouse Tuesday morning.

Assistant Superintendent Wesley Taylor said Harry Moore, who was originally sentenced in 1972 in Broward County for breaking and entering and was subsequently charged with assault with intent to commit murder in the first degree, was still at large.

Taylor said Moore checked out of his dormitory early because Tuesday was a slaughter day at the abattoir. "He worked as a clerk and he had been told to check the coolers. He went to the cooler and kept going."

Taylor said Moore's coat was found at Hook's Machine Shop adjacent to GCI and dogs tracked the escapee to US 441, where the tracks ended.

"Apparently," Taylor said, "he had someone waiting for him." He said Moore has been living in Fort Lauderdale, his wife lives in Palm Beach County and he was originally from Pennsylvania.

Moore was described as white male, 5 feet, 9 inches tall, 175 pounds, with a medium build, brown hair, blue eyes and no outstanding features. He is 34 years old.

Flower shop, restaurant are in the news

By Andy Campanaro

Another flower shop in town, but this one you're going to have to look for a little bit.

The Rose Petal, managed by Vera Weeks, is at 233 Royal Palm Way. That's the street off of SR 715 north of Royals warehouse. You'll see the sign on the front door and one in the front yard.

This flower shop is in the Weeks' two-story house and the shop has a well-stocked cooler with all types of flowers. Mrs. Weeks makes her own arrangements, both cut fresh and dry. The shop opened in early January and now sponsors free delivery for any place from Canal Point to South Bay, as well as a wire service for deliveries out of town. Murray Weeks is a farmer who's lived here, as has his wife, all their lives.

going business at 153 South Lake Avenue in Pahokee.

Run by Beverly Heffernan, the store sells junior and misses lingerie, foundations and modern clothes - dresses, jeans and pants-suits.

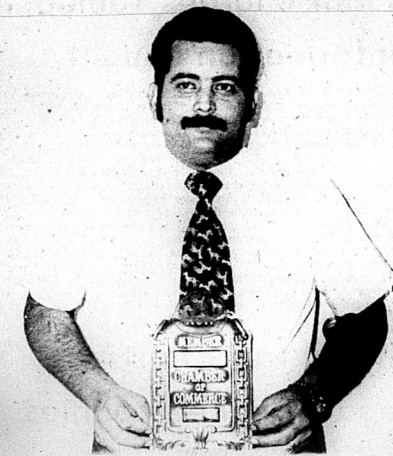

TIDBITS

The Reservation about doubled its space over in Earl Meredith's Shopping Center...gives the Indian jewelry business a lot more moving space and the display panels and cases are twice as appealing as before (if that's possible)...that shopping center complex north of Pahokee is still alive and well, word has it. If the zoning can be brought about, it will be...mistakes do happen. Someone pointed out to me that I put "Western Sizzling" as a possible Glades business in my column a few weeks ago. No. In fact, at this moment, that particular chain is not acutely interested in this area...if you look hard, farmers, in our classified section the next two weeks, you will find where to lease farmland for $10 an acre...there's a fairly new process called texturized sealing which eliminates the need to paint any building for some 15 years and coats the building with an attractive weather-resistant sealing agent. Look for the ad in this week's issue...many unusual and maybe-not-so-valid advertising agents are running around wanting businesses to subscribe, insert, buy, lease or whatever advertisements and/or products from them. When somebody comes to you from some place or some organization you've never heard of, you should do two things...ask them to produce a permit showing they have purchased the necessary city or county license and if they can not...say "no", firmly and emphatically.

Lopez

Businessman of the week is announced

Carlos Lopez, 30, is originally from San Juan, Puerto Rico, where he was sales manager for Antilles Bearings. Miller Bearings snatched him away from that position and brought him to Belle Glade where he manages the new Miller Bearings store in the Earl Meredith Shopping Center on Main Street.

Married with three children, (his newest child is but three months old) Lopez resides in West Palm Beach. His background training is in sales and design and he sports a degree from Morse Institute of Technology. Lopez is one of our new Chamber of Commerce members, joining this month.

Todd named floor manager at Glades

Charles Todd, 54, 604 SW 13th Street, Belle Glade, has been named new floor manager for Walgreens Agency, Glades Drugs according to manager Dale Bledsoe. Todd begins employment with Glades Drug this week, coming there from the Glades Central annex position with the School Board's area superintendent's office. Todd's wife, Naomi, still works with the school system as Administrative Assistant. Todd has one son, Charles II Todd, Jr. Who is a student at Bethune-Cookman College in Daytona Beach.

A new restaurant will be opening probably within days of reading this in South Bay on US 27 just north of the Growers.

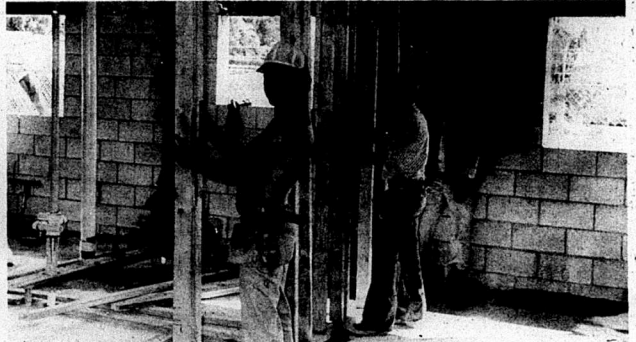

It's called Steak 'N' Omelet and the head spokespersons are Ron and Jody Elliott from Pahokee (along with others in ownership). This 50-seater will feature a variety of dishes for breakfast, lunch and dinner at reasonable prices and the local owners have the benefit of franchise management. Franchise management makes the difference in many lines of business, according to statistics from the U.S. Department of Labor's Business Bureau.

Did you know, for instance, that 9 out of 10 franchises profit and succeed in their business while almost the same number of non-experienced new business entrants fail?

The restaurant features a huge breakfast menu, but can satisfy any diner's palate with luscious steaks, desserts, salads and sandwiches.

The franchise of this business, should any of you businessmen be interested, can be contacted at Steak 'N' Omelet, Inc., P.O. Box 1420, Winter Haven, Fla. 33880 or telephone (813) 299-8783.

GOBIERNO JUSTO PARA TODA LA TIERRA

Escribir: Jose Antonio Garcia

Muchas veces los grandes descubrimientos han tenido su base en cosas muy pequeñas. También a veces la clave de un problema esta en cosa considerada insignificante. Un gran camión pudiera no caminar por problema en los platillos (Los puntos eléctricos de contacto) y estos constituyen la mas pequeña de sus partes. De igual manera los problemas de la humanidad empezaron por algo muy pequeño, que a algunos guías religiosos y legos les ha parecido: "Un cuento infantil" y este es: "La manzana que se comió Eva en el Jardín del Edén."

Si usted pudiera ir al fondo del problema, usted vería el asunto mucho mas claro de lo que la mayoría piensa, pues el Creador, no uso un lenguaje alegórico y profundo, no, al contrario uso un lenguaje sencillo, llegando rápidamente a la raíz del problema. Tanto Satanás (Un angel rebeld) como nuestros primeros padres Adán y Eva, eran perfectos y absolutamente responsables a la desobediencia de las leyes perfectas de Dios. Ahora como pecadores fueron arrojados del Jardín de Eden que era un Santuario para criaturas perfectas. Fuera del Eden, encontro el hombre una tierra que le produjo espinos y abrojos, y en que comería el pan con el sudor de su frente. Y ALGO MAS "Jehova retiró o quitó su gobernanación divina" de sobre el hombre. Fijese querido lector, que Dios aun tiene el dominio sobre el Sol, la lluvia, los astros, el nacimiento, el desarrollo del hombre; en fin todos los ciclos ecológicos de la Tierra, pero en lo que Dios no interviene es en los asuntos de gobiernos del hombre, pues ha dejado que se gobierne a si mismo, con sus conyuncantes consecuencias. Hoy mas que nunca el hombre (La humanidad) está pagando las consecuencias al desato a la Gobernación Divina.

La humanidad ha ensayado muchas formas de gobiernos desde Egipto hasta la ONU, y hoy esta frente a un sistema ateo: El Comunismo—con su dialéctica materialista y la negación absoluta de Dios, como causa original de la creación, queriendo eso ironicamente poner en la Tierra "El paraíso" del que fue echado el hombre.

Ya han pasado 60 siglos de la creación del hombre. Ya la humanidad ha tenido un Mesías fiel hasta la muerte, y por 20 siglos el hombre ha tenido completa la Constitución Divina "La Biblia". Pero los pueblos como rios han corrido tras los gobiernos de hechura humana aclamando a sus líderes como "Crístos". Junto con la caída de estos, han venido las consabidas frustraciones y el desengano; como dice el proverbio divino: "Lo inmundo no puede producir nada limpio" Esa es la moraleja.

Hoy estamos ante la predicación mundial del Reino establecido del Cristo, y pronto muy pronto será una realidad física sobre la Tierra. Un gobierno mundial justo que regira la Tierra desde los cielos. Se extraña usted querido lector? Pues usted ha pedido este reino miles de veces cada vez que usted ha orado el "Padre Nuestro", usted le ha pedido a Dios vengo tu reino esto es igual a decir, venga tu gobierno, y hagase tu voluntad como en el cielo tambien sobre la Tierra. Si querido lector, usted lo ha pedido. Si usted vive en la Tierra ese reino o gobierno lo afectara a usted, y lo esta afectando ya! Pues usted esta siendo avisado. Segur el profeta Daniel 2:44, el reino de Jesucristo limpiara la Tierra de los gobiernos inícuos y de las condiciones actuales. Dice el libro de Apocalipsis, que Jesucristo usara una vara de hierro, y las naciones le serán como vaso de alfarero, como una vasija de barro, para quitar los gobiernos actuales en que todo el mundo es infeliz, para poner su Reino o Gobierno, en que la muerte, el dolor, y las lagrimas serán quitadas para siempre, y en el que habra paz y felicidad.

La Tierra volvera a ser un paraíso terrenal, para los que aman la justicia y la vida los es en verdades. Gloria de Dios esta en eso, en que mostrara el fracaso del hombre en saberse gobernar, y en que El, si podra poner un Reino sobre la Tierra para la felicidad de los humanos.

Jehova no fracasó, en el Eden el que fracaso fue el hombre al quedarse sin una guía divina para gobernarse. Pero la misericordia (Favor inmerecido al hombre) hara que este se establezca muy en breve sobre este planeta Tierra. Lea su Biblia, y vera que esta promesa se contempla en sus paginas.

The TIE that Binds...

Man and woman began their married life in church and according to God's holy word are joined together. With the Bible as the basis for the beginning of a new life together, it seems only reasonable that a continued study of God's word would strengthen and serve as a guide to any couple. The Bible can truly serve as a tie that will bind two together in accord. The church as God's agency on earth can help you in Bible study, and with the guidance of the Holy Spirit can help you to understand God's will in your life.

"And the Lord shall guide thee continually, and satisfy thy soul in drought, and make thy thy bones, and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters fail not." Isaiah 58-11

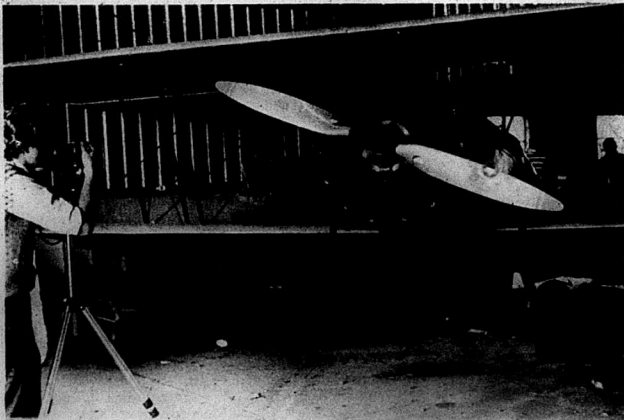

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Scenes from "The Pilot" will be shot here

JIM BIGHAM photographs an antique plane, much like the planes the pilot in the novel works on.

PAHOKEE—"Empire of the Ants" won't be the only movie that was filmed in the Glades. For a new movie - "The Pilot" - is presently in the making.

Bob Davis, Director and author of the novel "The Pilot" was in Pahokee Tuesday with two assistants from West Palm Beach shooting still pictures of various locations around town, some of which will be sites for the movie episodes. Pahokee Police Patrolman Ehrhridge Bryant accompanied them on their routes.

Davis won an academy award in 1961 for his movie "Day of the Painter," and has worked on 62 films throughout his career. He was active in Walt Disney movie productions, especially their true-to-life series and has authored seven novels.

The novel from which this movie will be taken was released in August and has been translated into nine languages, Davis said. It was published by William Morrow.

The plot revolves around an "alcoholic airline captain who lives in the Glades area and attends an A.A. (Alcoholics Anonymous) meeting in Pahokee," Davis said. "The man wants to leave the airlines and work as a spray pilot. He fixes antique planes in his spare time."

An airplane has been purchased for the "explosive" ending of the movie.

The film shooting will continue for five days but the dates of the shooting have not been released. "We really don't know right now when we'll start filming," Davis, a pilot himself, said.

In the novel, the action takes place in New York and Connecticut but, because of disapproval from the airlines, filming could not be accomplished there. So the location was changed to Florida. "We haven't had any trouble here," Davis said. "Everyone has been real cooperative."

Tenants want Cooper removed from Housing Authority board

PAHOKEE—Ethel Barnes, president of the Pahokee Housing Authority (PHA) Tenants Organization, spoke to the city council for the tenants in requesting the removal of Mr. Israel Cooper from the PHA Board of Commissioners. Referring to profane language used by Cooper toward her at the last PHA meeting, Barnes stated "we won't stand for putting a commissioner on the board who would say something like that to the tenants." We don't want that. We don't want him to represent the tenants.

At the PHA meeting, Cooper aired his discontent for a letter sent to Authority Chairman Walter Stephens informing him that the tenants would request that the city remove Cooper from the board. At that time, Cooper offered to submit his resignation and the dispute began.

"I didn't yell at him though. I don't want blacks fighting against blacks, that's too much," Barnes said. "You (the council) appointed him so you should be the ones to take him off," she continued. "My lawyer is taking care of my part."

"Mr. Fulton told us we had to appoint one black person to the board, so we did," Councilman Gamot said. "I'd like to get it worked out so that the city does not have to get involved." "We know who's suitable to represent us," Barnes said. "I sent a list of five names and ya'll picked another name."

Mayor Duncan Padgett, assigned to choose a PHA tenant representative last year, was ill with the flu so he was not available to respond to the request.

Council Chairwoman Wyonia Cummings and Councilman Norma Norman recommended that the tenants write the Mayor of their request and charges. The council agreed to refer the matter to the mayor for further recommendations. A tenant, Kathleen Biddle, further spoke out. "We ain't satisfied."

Pool demolition will begin soon

PAHOKEE—Bids accepted by the city council Tuesday night will allow action to begin on the demolition of the city pool, the purchase of a new 1976 pick-up truck and the sale of a dragline.

Four bids were received for pool demolition, the lowest being that of Associated Contract Ventures, Inc. Frank G. Primer, president, for a cost of $8,862. Primer hastened the bid selection in stating that the job could be initiated in a short period of time and that this was part of his considerations in offering the low bid price.

"We have $3,000 in the budget" for this project, City Clerk Betty McCov told the council.

"It's hearsay that the community development funds have been approved," Hatton said, "with the stipulation that the pool has got to be removed."

Upon Cummings' suggestion, the council voted unanimously to use $5,000 of Federal Revenue money to pay for the project. "The pool has to come down before they can put a building up and this is the least bid we've gotten," Councilman Norma Norman said. "It's also the least bid we're going to get," added Cummings. Primer's bid was thus accepted by the council.

A bid from Pahokee Ford Inc. in the amount of $2,981 the lowest of four bids, was accepted by the council for the purchase of a new 1976 pick-up truck for the utility department.

Also accepted was the highest bid for the sale of a city dragline. The bid was from Ray's Welding Service for $2,251.51.

Council members Norman and Cummings questioned the legality of paying a $27,276.75 bill for the recent purchase of a mosquito fogger and three generators that will provide emergency power. Concerned about the high figure, they both voted "yes, if it's legal" to payment of the bill, while Councilmen Hatton and Gamot voted a definite yes.

AN AFRICAN SHIELD is one of the relics Sasser collected during his Peace Corps stay in South Africa.

Sasser tells BPW of African experiences

PAHOKEE—The Business and Professional Women (BPW) Club was treated to a unique talk and slide presentation by James Paul Sasser of Pahokee who returned from Africa in December after a six months stay with the Peace Corps.

After a delicious pot-luck dinner at the home of Kathy Britton, Sasser began his presentation with a slide show, adding interesting comments to supplement the viewing.

Sasser accepted an invitation to Swaziland, Africa with the Peace Corps, where he taught agriculture and science at the Nazarene Mission School, earning $100 a month, and met some unusual traditions of the South Africa people.

"Teachers are the most respected people in the country," Sasser said. "And they really respected me because I had a beard." Old age in the country symbolizes wisdom and having a beard symbolized old age.

"South Africa has the longest reigning monarch in the world. The king is 76 years old, has 52 wives and over 300 children. He is extremely loved by his country," Sasser said.

To acquaint the Peace Corps volunteers with the ways of the South Africans, the volunteers attended a training session and then practice-taught during a rural live-in.

The home where Sasser lived was headed by the father, a witch doctor, and the house was built out of mud and cow manure.

"The most African experience I had," he said, "was one day around 2 in the afternoon when we heard loud drums being played." Sasser said he went over to the location and discovered that a witchdoctor was about to conduct a seance. The man had consumed various herbs and spices which produced the effect of being drugged.

"He claimed to be possessed by the spirits of the grandfathers of everyone in the group and he would come around to each person talking as their own grandfather. When he came to me, he told me I had a terrible sickness that would effect my whole body and that I would die from it." Sasser found out later that the disease the man had described was actually arthritis. "I had a beard so he thought I was old and older people get arthritis."

One practice that would seem odd to us as Americans is that the African teachers and the headmasters of the schools beat the students with rods. The parents complain if the headmaster does not beat their kids because they come home and misbehave," Sasser said.

Cattle are an extremely valuable commodity to the South African people. Women there are still bought and sold with cattle. A wife usually costs ten head of cattle," Sasser told the group. And "women do most of the work. What they don't do, they have the kids do."

At the Nazarene Mission School, Sasser taught students from ages 13 to 26 in one class. Because it was a mission school, he had the benefit of living in a nice house, earning the envy of other volunteers.

Other African practices he observed to be different from our own are that the Africans consider it rude to use the left hand or to look someone in the eye. And children bow to teachers, as do also the parents. "I wanted to tell them (Don't do that, get up,) but they would consider that very rude," Sasser stated.

Sasser found the experience so gratifying that he would like to return to Swaziland before his 27 months residency expires.

Eighteen B.P.W. members attended the program as well as guests Mary Falford, the B.P.W. District Director, Janice Howard, president of the Stuart Club and Lynn Reese who was visiting her sister Kathy Britton.

For some, collecting aluminum is a living

PAHOKEE—Pahokee residents are taking advantage of the Reynolds Aluminum Recycling Company's mobile unit which makes stops at the Little League Ball Park, 615 Racoon Point Road.

AN ALUMINUM collector waits patiently while his bags and boxes of aluminum are weighed. The scale weighs up to 400 pounds.

every other Thursday to pay cash for aluminum. For some, it is their only source of income. Emma Davis of Pahokee said the money she receives from selling aluminum is the only income she has, besides Social Security.

trucks then move on to their next stop. Zolt Eizerdorfen, from the Miami plant, who makes stops at 31 locations in So. Florida, said they pay 17 cents per pound for aluminum cans and 15 cents for scrap element. "Those who have over 176 pounds of aluminum get paid by check since that amounts to over $30," he said.

No screen, cast aluminum or auto parts such as bumpers or grills will be accepted, Eizerdorfen said. "And if someone comes up with too many license plates, we have to check it out." A man in Belle Glade did just that recently but "we turned him away and told him if he would bring proofs of registration, we would buy the tags." This would prevent people from stealing license plates in hopes of cashing them in at the aluminum station.

"We come over here every other Thursday except when it's cold and we can't get out to find the cans," Mrs. Davis said. The aluminum gatherers collect their objects at various places around town, anywhere they can find them. "I used to work at a packing house but they made me quit because of my nerves," she said. "I pay my bills with the money I get here." But there are also those who want the money to buy liquor; as the aluminum representative jokingly spoke of during last Thursday's pick-up.

Most of the collectors are regulars and bring large bags full of aluminum products, mostly cans, in hopes of bring home some money.

The workers weigh the loads of aluminum, pay the customers and pack the bags into the large mobile man made $68 at last week's pick-up.

Some bring transparent bags and some bring dark bags but it is pretty well accepted that the non-visible objects are aluminum. However, a quick check may unveil several pieces that are not actually aluminum. One method of determining if an object is or is not aluminum is to give it a magnet test. "A magnet will not stick to aluminum," Eizerdorfen said.

For whatever reason people collect aluminum it is beneficial to themselves and others. The collectors receive legitimate money for their own use, the town is rid of litter and resources are saved by the recycling process.

THE REYNOLDS RECYCLING worker computes the amount of money this customer should receive from his 55 pounds of aluminum, as others wait their turn.

Lakeshore Shield editor injured in auto accident

SOUTH BAY-A Belle Glade woman was hospitalized Monday in an accident four miles north of town on US 27 when her car was struck by a tractor-trailer at 12:20 p.m.

Alma Ruth Henry, 23, of 1257 Vaughn Cir. in Belle Glade had just passed the truck driven by William Dale Herndon, 27, of Winter Haven, according to Florida Highway Patrol Trooper D.F. Hudson, when the accident occurred.

Hudson said Miss Henry, editor of the newly created Lakeshore Shield, changed lanes too soon, causing Herndon to strike the right rear of her car.

Miss Henry was admitted to Glades General Hospital, where she was listed in good condition. Herndon received no injuries. Hudson said Miss Henry's car sustained $3,000 damages and the truck received $1,000 in damage.

Hudson charged Miss Henry with improper change of lanes.

ALL ABOARD! THE SIMON TRAIN

The Swamp Cabbage Festival begins tomorrow in LaBelle featuring country music, barbeque and a three day celebration in Hendry County. Entertainment will feature Barbara Fairchild and her Teddy Bear Band from Nashville and Murry Kellum also from Music City.

Miss Fairchild who is a native of Knoxville, Arkansas, will perform Friday night at the outside high school facility while Murry Kellum will be performing both Friday and Saturday night for Ronnie Long's Long Branch Saloon.

Barbara has the hit song "Cheating Is" on national charts as she records for the prestigious Columbia Record Corporation offering world-wide distribution while Murry's current release on Music Mill Records, "Don't Let Me Scare You, I Want To Love You" has dropped off the Top One Hundred charts for lack of promotion.

Fairchild is most noted for her recording of "Teddy Bear" popular some four years before the CB song sung by Red Sovine of the same name.

The popular entertainer Kellum is best noted for the up-tempo country-rock song, "Long Tall Texan."

Both entertainers will perform action packed shows to near capacity crowds as there will be nearly ten thousand spectators in LaBelle to help celebrate the traditional barbeque and swamp cabbage cookout held at the court house lawn and on the airport grounds at the Hendry County Seat city.

There is always a long parade that begins the day Saturday. The parade seems to last for the better part of the morning winding the entire length of LaBelle's downtown business district.

The Swamp Cabbage Festival is definitely an event to attend with the family as various civic and church organizations in LaBelle work very hard year round planning events for members of all ages of visiting and resident families.

Camping is the rule rather than the exception, although all motels within 40 miles of LaBelle are generally booked for the entire Swamp Cabbage weekend.

GMC demonstration scheduled in school

BELLE GLADE—Local students will get a peek at the future when General Motors national assembly programs, Previews of Progress, appears at Glades Central at 10 a.m. and at Lakeshore Middle School at 2 p.m. Tuesday.

According to General Motors President Elliott M. Estes, the non-commercial show "seeks to inspire more student interest in science, engineering, and related technical and vocational careers to provide the trained talent America needs to keep pace with the promise of the future."

Previews of Progress demonstrations depict work being done today in America's research laboratories and point out the contributions of research to modern living. The live show is in non-technical language.

More than 30 million students and adults in the United States have seen Previews since 1946. Millions more have seen the GM show in Canada and 25 foreign countries, including special presentations made overseas at the request of the U.S. Department of Commerce.

Featured in the show is explanation and demonstration of a catalytic converter, a device used to reduce automobile related exhaust pollutants. Based on extensive research and engineering, GM believes the catalytic converter is the best choice of alternatives at this time for meeting federal requirements because it reduces emissions of pollutants while also permitting improvements in fuel economy and drivability of automobiles.

Another demonstration uses a laser beam to translate the sounds we hear into visual patterns of light.

In all, students will see nine live examples of research-in-action.

Previews has received wide acclaim from educators and civic organizations for its efforts in encouraging more student interest in science, engineering and related vocational careers.

"MAN-MADE" MOLECULES—Synthetic rubber produced in only 60 seconds is one of the dramatic demonstrations in General Motors live science assembly program, "Previews of Progress." The lecturer mixes two liquids in a pop bottle, shakes well, and out jumps a mass of synthetic rubber 15 times the volume of the bottle. The jumping rubber experiment is one of nine sequences in the show which dramatize new materials and products made possible by research in science and engineering. The admission-free 40-minute program dramatizes the wonders of research in non-technical terms before one million American students and adults annually.

Our very special thanks go to all our friends who brought food, sent flowers or cards, and visited us in our home and in the hospital with comforting words and kind expressions of sympathy and to everyone from the many churches for their prayers.

Your loving kindness will always be remembered.

Break One- Nine!

Use your eyes before you use your ears.

Before you think about putting up your CB base antenna, make sure you've got your signals straight.

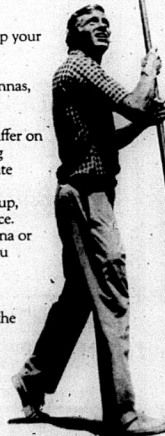

To begin with, Citizen Band antennas, unlike TV antennas, are under FCC regulations.

FCC and local rules sometimes differ on the allowable height. So, before erecting your antenna, check with the appropriate authorities.

And when you're ready to put it up, check on one other thing — the clearance.

The slightest touch of your antenna or guy wire to a power line could cause you a serious shock.

Here's how to play it safe. Make sure that you check all directions. In other words, not only the space above the antenna but all around. So, if your antenna should happen to fall, it won't happen to fall onto a power line.

How far away is safe? Certainly a distance no less than the height of the mast.

This safety rule not only goes for CB antennas but TV antennas as well. Or any metal pole for that matter.

And here's another word of caution; even when using guy wires to raise or lower your antenna you can't be assured of positive control. So, better double check the clearance.

So many people are now tuning into CB that we thought you should also be tuned into the necessary safety requirements.

This safety message has been brought to you by Florida Power and Light as a public service. Because serving the public is really what we're here for.

Freeze effects of short-term duration

By Doyle Conner

Florida's freezing weather in the latter part of Jan. caused sharp losses, some unemployment and prices but I feel these effects will be of short-term duration — two to three months. Without trying to paint the scene with rosy daisies, it is our feeling that Florida's farmers and grove owners will make a good comeback from the disaster.

It was in truth a real disaster as subfreezing temperatures moved across the state down as far as Florida City, some 25 miles south of Miami. While it most likely will be impossible to ever put a dollar figure on the loss, estimates ranged above $150 million to possibly $250 million.

These estimates may be misleading. There is a possibility — even a likelihood — that much of the citrus fruit found to be iced over for several hours, will be salvaged and processed as concentrate without any loss of quality. Where damage in vegetable fields was spotty, farmers are hoping the volume will be sufficient to hold their regular customers and preserve the market for years they have bountiful crops.

Replanting of some crops is under way. Some tomato growers may not want to replant for the spring harvest at this late date and face full competition from areas which were not damaged. We have faith in their ability to make a comeback because they have been through this experience before and realize there is little they can do about the weather — that growing vegetables and citrus is a gamble.

The fact that some fresh produce will be in short supply is not in question. Consumers who prefer fresh produce may do a lot of switching to canned goods, which are in abundant supply. This is evidenced by the fact that during the cannery workers' strike last year in California, the price of canned foods was not appreciably affected.

There appeared to be considerable misinformation spread about the number of farm workers who had no work and needed assistance. The estimates ranged up from 130,000 unemployed to as high as 180,000 or 200,000. These figures were misleading because in mid-January of 1976, there were no more than 91,000 hired farm workers in Florida at the peak of the season.

Our own estimate, a generous 35,000 unemployed, were backed up by factual estimates from the Federal Emergency Board, which said the unemployment rate ranged from 25,000 to possibly 50,000 depending upon what day you counted.

Farmers without crops and Florida-based independent truckers without produce to haul are also faced with making a living. Then they have the impossible-to-pay mortgages on their farm tractors and harvesters and their hanging rigs.

Some consideration should be given this segment of agribusiness. Banks which finance the purchase of farm equipment and trucks and their insurance should consider granting a moratorium to the owners while the crisis is in effect, until Florida's farmers can begin harvesting again. Lenders at least would stand a chance to be repaid in the long run, where they would suffer a loss if they foreclosed in the short run.
